

AUTHENTIC LEADERSHIP IN PHILANTHROPY

Offered in collaboration with OnPointe.

THE FUTURE SUCCESS OF PHILANTHROPIC ORGANIZATIONS DEPENDS ON DEVELOPING ITS MOST VALUABLE ASSET, ITS PEOPLE.

This five-session program will strengthen your leadership as you join a cohort of a dozen peers on a learning journey where you'll discover your unique individual leadership potential. At the conclusion of the group and individual sessions, you'll be better positioned to lead and support the success of your philanthropic organization and will have a network of colleagues to turn to for support and advice on your path. You will:

- Develop strong, authentic leadership knowledge;
- Learn how to be conscious and intentional about leading; and
- Build competencies and practices in key skill areas.

TESTIMONIALS

The Authentic Leadership in Philanthropy program was one of the most beneficial professional development programs that I have participated in. The content and fieldwork was able to be applied to your current work which made it beneficial rather than feeling like additional work you had to fit in. The interaction with colleagues from around the state was the most beneficial component – the learning and takeaways I received from my peers were extremely valuable.

– Megan Folkerth, program officer, Interact for Health

Often I think those in leadership roles think, “why should I do this? I know how to be a leader”. This program will challenge that opinion. It was a great way to look at leadership from a new perspective and gain new personal insight.

– Brian Wagner, CEO, Muskingum County Community Foundation

Investing in your staff is one of the greatest ways to show you value their place in your organization. The ALIP program provides knowledge that can only increase the effectiveness and solidarity for your team. I very much appreciate your guidance through these last 6 months and the bonds that were formed in this class. I appreciate the environment that was created especially for people in our positions and the acknowledgement of power and authenticity as factors in our roles as funders.

– Allie Watson, senior community investment officer, Richland County Foundation
